

Our trip to Scotland

Our trip to Scotland started on a very hot day on the 24th of June, 2023. I arrived at the airport with my mom and my dad and quickly found our accompanying teacher. We said bye to our families and started to check in. It was my first time flying or even being on an airplane so it was definitely an interesting but also fun experience for me. At the airport we got to know each other a little bit before the plane took off.

We arrived after about 3 hours to Edinburgh, checked out, and then headed to the tram station to buy tickets for the 5 days we spent there. We got on the tram and had a little incident. At our stop only half of the group had time to get off, so we got stuck there for another stop. Luckily neither of the stops were too far from each other, nor the hotel, so we met at the hotel.

Our hotel was really nice and clean, I really liked it, and after checking in and looking at our rooms we went sightseeing. This was the only day in our whole trip when it was hot outside, and the sun was really shining, so we enjoyed it. We went on a long-long walk in town and I have to say, I was mesmerized from the beauty of this town. It was so different from other towns, it was truly gorgeous.

We got dinner in a Pizza Hut, and had some really good food, then talked about what we will do the next day.

We got back to the hotel, and I talked to my roommate and other girls who came with us. We played cards and had a really good time. It was really interesting how long it was daylight there. At 10 o'clock it wasn't still dark.

The next day was a Sunday, the day we went to Glasgow. We went by train and the ride took only 1 hour. On the train we played cards with the girls. We arrived, sadly to an awful weather, it was raining cats and dogs. We brought raincoats with us because we've been told that it's gonna rain, but honestly my coat didn't help too much.

But the rain didn't stop us at all from going sightseeing that day too. We went to George Square and then had 1 hour of freetime to explore the city. Then we headed to the university of Glasgow. After the university we went to a church where some old ladies talked about Jane Haining and her life. It was really nice, we also got some food too.

After our day in Glasgow we went to see the Edinburgh Castle and the Palace of Holyroodhouse and also had some more free time in the city of Edinburgh.

To close our last full day we went to see the sea.

And then our very last day came around which was also a very gloomy and rainy day. We went to the city for one last time, then headed to the airport. We had a smooth flight back, and I had a very great time in Scotland.
